Client manager/ Junior marketing actuary

Dear applicants:

We are looking for a technically and commercially minded candidate to join Willis Re, one of the top life reinsurance broking team in Asia Pacific.

We benefit from tapping into the Willis Towers Watson ecosystem whilst operating nimbly like a start-up, which makes our value proposition powerful and unique in the market.

We believe that broking is an emerging non-traditional field for actuaries and are fully committed to each and every team member to make this a most fun, rewarding and fulfilling career.

This role is based in Singapore, but candidate will be expected to travel within Asia-Pacific region.

What you can expect to do:

You will report to one of our senior leaders and as a team, you'll have the opportunity to execute the most exciting and challenging projects. This role involves the following:

- Build and harness actuarial techniques to price and develop innovative products,
- Place, negotiate and structure reinsurance treaties,
- Actively manage client accounts and interact with clients to find the best solution for them,

What we are looking for:

- Top academic credentials
- A team player who enjoys communication and problem solving in an unstructured environment.
- Articulate, positive and highly motivated individual
- One who has the talent and the ambition to be developed into a top actuary or client manager

What we can offer:

- Attractive remuneration package for the right candidate that is closely aligned to performance,
- Lots of opportunity to interact with clients and travel in the Asia Pacific region,
- Generous actuarial study package (if applicable)

Please contact: jeffrey.seow@willistowerswatson.com if you are interested in this role.