The Asian Actuarial Conference (AAC) has a rich history that reflects the growth of actuarial collaboration across Asia over the past four decades.

In its early years, the Asian Actuaries Association (AsAA) organised a biennial conference called the East Asian Actuarial Congress (EAAC) – hosted by different actuarial societies in member countries – to encourage professional exchange and networking.

Starting in 2014, this event evolved into what is now known as the Asian Actuarial Conference (AAC). The AAC became an annual event to better meet the growing demand for collaboration and continuous learning among actuaries in the region.

Today, the AsAA brings together 12 member associations representing nearly 30,000 actuaries across Asia and Australia.

- Actuaries Institute Australia (IAAust)
- Actuarial Institute of Chinese Taipei (AICT)
- Actuarial Society of Hong Kong (ASHK)
- Actuarial Society of Malaysia (ASM)
- Actuarial Society of the Philippines (ASP)
- China Association of Actuaries (CAA)
- Institute of Actuaries of India (IAI)
- Institute of Actuaries of Japan (IAJ)
- Institute of Actuaries of Korea (IAK)
- Singapore Actuarial Society (SAS)
- Society of Actuaries of Indonesia (PAI)
- Society of Actuaries of Thailand (SOAT)
